

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

In launching this Mathematical Medley, our Society desires to demonstrate that its functions are not confined to a few specialists alone. An Editorial Board consisting of some of our most devoted, energetic and competent colleagues, have taken upon themselves the onerous task of sharing their experiences and informations and those of our fellow members, with the other enthusiasts of the subject in Singapore. This modest publication is expected to contain amongst other things, mathematical news in general, popular articles on contemporary mathematics and a problem-solving corner. It is designed to generate in our members a genuine interest in the subject, which has aptly been described as "The Queen and the Servant of Science". If it can live up to this objective, the Society will consider its efforts as more than doubly rewarded.

I wish this venture a long and glorious future.

(K. K. SEN)
President
